

References and Resources from Wondering Aloud: Encouraging Student Inquiry Through the Arts

Books and Articles of interest:

Douglas, K. M., & Jaquith, D. (2009). Engaging learners through artmaking. New York: Teachers College Press.

Hathaway, N. (2009). Teaching for artistic behavior: Fostering creative possibility. Perspectives in education: Creativity [Monograph]. Denver, CO: University of Denver.

Hathaway, N. (2008, September). 10 teaching and learning strategies in a choice-based art program, Arts & Activities, 36-37, 53.

Web pages:

URL Link to the Wondering Aloud webinar:

http://region8rcep.wimba.com/main/classroom.html?channel=UNC_Wondering_Aloud_2011_0421_1803_44

You will be asked to provide a participant name after clicking the link to the archive. Providing your first name or initials will be sufficient to log in. Once you are in the webcast archive, you can either watch the archive in its entirety, or click on the slide titles on the right to navigate to specific parts of the archive.

Teaching for Artistic Behavior (TAB) webpage: <http://teachingforartisticbehavior.org/>

Nan Hathaway's classroom blog: <http://www.studio-learning.blogspot.com/>

